

Womens' History Month Speaker

Inés Pérez

"Theft, Consumption, And Gender in Domestic Service (Mar del Plata, Argentina, 1950–1980)"

In her remote lecture for the Department of History's celebration of Women's History Month, Dr. Pérez will use court records on "servant theft" to examine popular notions of social equality and justice, as well as gender and consumption, in Peronist Argentina. Following the lecture, graduate students from History and Latin American Studies will offer comments for discussion with Dr. Pérez. Refreshments will be provided.

MAR DEL PLATA, ARGENTINA, 1958. PHOTO BY DMITRI KESSEL, LIFE MAGAZINE, 1958

Inés Pérez is a researcher at CONICET (National Council of Scientific and Technical Research) and teaches at the Sociology Department of the Universidad Nacional de Mar del Plata, Argentina. Her research focuses on the history of paid and unpaid domestic work, family life and consumption. She is the author of El hogar tecnificado. Familias, género y vida cotidiana, 1940-1970 (2012). She has also co-authored Senderos que se bifurcan. Servicio doméstico y derechos laborales en la Argentina del siglo XX (2018), with Romina Cutuli and Débora Garazi, and, with Marinês Ribeiro Dos Santos, she co-edited Gênero e consumo: representações midiáticas de práticas de consumo no espaço doméstico, Argentina e Brasil no século XX (2017).

Join us in person or on Zoom for this Hybrid Lecture
Wednesday, March 6th 3:00pm–4:30 pm
Mesa Vista Hall 1104
<https://unm.zoom.us/j/96032271801?from=addon>

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

LATIN AMERICAN
& IBERIAN INSTITUTE

WOMEN, GENDER
& SEXUALITY STUDIES