

An Educator's Guide to Latin American Film
Granito

ABOUT THIS GUIDE

This guide accompanies a documentary that takes place in and deals with an issue concerning Latin America. It was produced by Sheena Chakeres on behalf of the Latin American and Iberian Institute (LAI) at The University of New Mexico as part of a series of lessons for high school English or History students or advanced Spanish language students. The purpose of these lessons is to expose students to the politics, economics, history, and threats to Latin Americans and how their stories relate to the political history of the region.

ABOUT THE LAI

The LAI is an interdisciplinary resource center at The University of New Mexico. As part of its mission to promote a better understanding of Latin America among diverse constituents, it develops curriculum materials and related resources for teaching about Latin America in the K-12 classroom. To learn more about other classroom resources produced by the LAI, visit the LAI website.

LESSON OVERVIEW

Granito traces how documentary footage from 1982 Guatemala becomes evidence against war criminals in the present. Using this film, this lesson plan will:

- 1) Open a dialogue with students about the Guatemalan Civil War.
- 2) Develop students' literacy skills, in English and/or Spanish
- 3) Deepen students' understanding of indigenous history in Guatemala and the genocide that would shape the country's identity
- 4) Introduce American politics with regards to our neighbors in the global south

Granito

Directed by Pamela Yates

Produced by Paco de Onís

Edited by Peter Kinoy

Video: Available on PrimeVideo (as of April 2019)

SUMMARY:

In 1982, Pamela Yates visited Guatemala to document the guerrilla resistance. The footage would provide key evidence for bringing the indictment against former dictator Efraín Ríos Montt. Granito: How to Nail a Dictator shows how film, supporting a new generation of human rights activists, became a granito — a tiny grain of sand — that helped tip the scales of justice.

LEVEL:

Grades 10-12/ Spanish III, IV, AP/World History, Latin American Studies, Economics

THEMES:

Guatemala, justice, politics, indigenous rights, genocide, dictatorships

DURATION:

1 hour and 41 minutes

APPLICABLE STANDARDS

The English Language Arts Common Core Standards mirror the current Standards for Foreign Language Learning in the 21st Century (see Skills Map). Both encourage a long sequence of language study in grades K–12 to promote a high level of literacy and communication ability.

COMMON CORE STATE → LITERACY → Grades 11-12

CCSS.ELA-LITERACY.SL.11-12.1.D

Respond thoughtfully to diverse perspectives; synthesize comments, claims, and evidence made on all sides of an issue; resolve contradictions when possible; and determine what additional information or research is required to deepen the investigation or complete the task.

CCSS.ELA-LITERACY.SL.11-12.2

Integrate multiple sources of information presented in diverse formats and media (e.g., visually, quantitatively, orally) in order to make informed decisions and solve problems, evaluating the credibility and accuracy of each source and noting any discrepancies among the data.

CCSS.ELA-LITERACY.SL.11-12.3

Evaluate a speaker's point of view, reasoning, and use of evidence and rhetoric, assessing the stance, premises, links among ideas, word choice, points of emphasis, and tone used.

Note: This documentary is approximately 1 hour 38 minutes, and therefore, this lesson is designed for 3 days. The majority of the film is conducted in English and, when Spanish or a Mayan dialect are spoken, subtitles are in English. There are some violent elements that may require a permission slip for some teachers.

ENGLISH LESSON PLAN

This lesson plan works well as a follow up lesson to the LAll's related literature guide for I, Rigoberta Menchú.

Pre-viewing

To begin, introduce Guatemala's civil war and the genocide of indigenous people. Referred to as the "Silent Holocaust," a military counterinsurgency effort against leftist groups from 1960-1996 led to the massacre of hundreds of thousands of Maya peasants. In 2013, former military dictator General Efraín Ríos Montt (1982–1983) was indicted for his role in the most intense stage of the genocide. Follow ongoing information about the trials here.

Then, go over the key terms with students (on worksheet). In addition to answering the questions during the film, ask them to write down any questions that arise for them as they watch.

SPANISH LESSON PLAN

Note: This lesson plan could act as a precursor for the LAll's podcast guide to the Radio Ambulante episode, "El Juez," and a follow-up to the chapter lesson on Me llamo Rigoberta Menchú.
